Shanghai Xintiandi is a popular entertainment hub in the city centre imbued with Shanghai's historical and cultural legacies. It is a re-creation born out of the sprawls of Shikumen housing, which is the architectural symbol of early 20th century Shanghai, but over the years had sadly deteriorated because of the lack of maintenance. Xintiandi was created by Boston Architectural firm Wood and Zapata Inc. & Singapore based Nikken Sekkei International Limited who convert Shikumen residential blocks into a multifunctional business and entertainment center flowing with restaurants, boutiques, bars, cafes and also 88 Xintiandi Executive Residence.

88 Xintiandi Executive Residence as an exquisite boutique hotel, it stands to shine as one of Shanghai's most desirous upscale locations for short or long term stay in the city.

The apartment are featured with east -meets-west, yesterday-meets-tomorrow style and concept that is symbolized by using CDM-ISO-FIX system fans sitting on top of the metal framed roof, in for isolating the vibration induced by the air cooling order to maintain interiors are filled with an air of calm comfort, modern function and exquisite beauty.

With its unique architectural design, Xintiandi has won the national "Innovation China 2001 – Architectural Award" and "AIA Hong Kong Citation 2002".
